

Australian Government
Bureau of Meteorology

ANNUAL CLIMATE SUMMARY 2008

17th August: Ice encrusts the Stevenson screen housing the thermometers of the automatic weather station on Mt Wellington, Tasmania. There are two screens visible: the wooden one currently in use is in the background, and in the foreground is a new plastic screen being tested for suitability in this extreme environment.

Prepared by Climate Analysis Section,
National Climate Centre,
Bureau of Meteorology,
Melbourne.