

Aysha Fleming (CSIRO)

Session 10: Communication and co-design of services.

Title: Co-design, co-development and co-delivery: lessons about collaboration

Co-design, co-development and co-delivery are part of the co-production spectrum and are hot topics in current climate science delivery. But awareness about what they involve and how to go about them is patchy. This presentation outlines practical insights from empirical case studies of climate science projects in different contexts, along with key lessons and implications for funders, researchers and partners.