

Caroline Bain, Met Office

Bio:

Dr Caroline Bain leads the Verification, Weather Impacts and Post Processing strategic area in Weather Science at the Met Office. Her background is in both science and technology with a strong focus on pulling science through to services, international collaboration, and development of National Meteorological Services worldwide. Her scientific record is strongly skewed towards tropical meteorology alongside convection-dynamical interactions and extreme weather prediction.