

Mike Bush, Met Office

Mike Bush is a Scientific Manager and leads the Regional Atmosphere Development (RAD) team in Regional Modelling Evaluation and Development (RMED) at the Met Office. Mike joined the Met Office in 1996 following his MSc in Weather, Climate and Modelling at the University of Reading and has spent his entire career working with regional models. In his spare time, Mike enjoys languages and continues to try and improve his Polish.