

Joshua Boegheim – Powerlink QueenslandBio:

Joshua is a network strategist in Powerlink's Energy Markets team and a dual Economics and Electrical Engineering student at Queensland University of Technology (QUT). His current focus is on understanding how real-world weather uncertainty and imperfect foresight will impact the operation of energy storage systems in the future National Electricity Market (NEM). The aim of this work is to assist system planners in better assessing the true value of various storage technologies within the evolving energy network.
